During the recent gathering organised by the team at 'Unique Private Estates' where the 15 renowned world travel agencies were present, The Collection magazine were honoured and privileged to be invited as the sole media partner from The Adriatic region, for the event.

Unique Private Estates is a Madrid-based company created by Beatriz Pastrana, that specialises in organising bespoke events at its carefully selected portfolio of luxury properties that have been cherry-picked from around Spain.

The one and only, La Nava del Barranco, is a favourite destination, as coming to La Nava is about discovering true luxury. Everything in this estate makes perfect sense!

Surrounded by thousands of hectares of natural Spanish landscapes, olive trees and vineyards, La Nava del Barranco Villa has 14 large en suite rooms and offers magnificent views of the countryside. It is carefully decorated with perfectly combined materials and styles to create a unique experience. All rooms are fully equipped with the latest technology to ensure maximum comfort.

This is a place to spend your vacation surrounded by breath-taking natural beauty, stunning views of lakes, mountains, valleys, and green forests. The location is superb - right on the top of a hill. It's a perfect place to escape from the chaos of everyday life, disconnect and feel at one with the world around you (this is not a phrase - it is completely true). It is everything you could ever need for an all-inclusive stay, with absolutely unbeatable in-house service. The interior and exterior of the house offer many different ways to relax and enjoy yourself. You can watch movies in the cinema room, indulge yourself with the saunas and the spa, experience traditional Spanish cuisine of the house chef in the elegant dining room, read books and relax in the library room with the fireplace on, and enjoy sunsets in the late afternoon and the clearest sky with stars at night from the gorgeous lounges & porches. The two lounges available in the house allow guests to choose the most appropriate space to relax depending on their mood. The main lounge has a large south-facing terrace, perfect for enjoying the stunning sunsets (my favourite spot inside the Villa). The side lounge is ideal for small groups looking for privacy and discretion.

The house offers diverse dining rooms where you can enjoy exquisite Spanish gastronomy. The main dining room seats 30 people and has a fireplace and a large window where you can appreciate wonderful views. There is a beautiful dining space on the terrace and an impressive dining area in the midst of the countryside for those seeking unique experiences. The chef and his team create unique menus, using only the best ingredients from the best suppliers in the market. The meals here are unlike any you've had at any place you've ever dined before.

Buuut... What makes this Villa unique are the outdoors activities within the house estate: watch for deer, rams, rabbits, wild boars, eagles, thousands of birds and even some endangered species on a 4x4 photo safari. Enjoy a horseback adventure through the Castilian countryside or see it from above while experiencing a thrilling hot balloon ride. Anything you can imagine is possible, from a private bullfight to an intimate flamenco show and a concert. Villa Castilla has an in-house team of experts for each activity to make sure you can learn and enjoy every experience to the fullest. The service of a 6-star hotel with the warmth, privacy and feeling at home, made the stay here an unforgettable experience. In the series of special treats, outdoor dining stood out – an improvised outdoor kitchen in the middle of nowhere, with the chef paying attention to every single detail, wait staff in uniforms, hot stones placed under the table to get the temperature right, and a local menu that was prepared and served in a way to add an extra touch of sophistication. After a four-course dinner and beautiful desert it was time to relax next to the infinity pool, in the gym, or in the SPA where you can have amazing massages and beauty treatments! There are also reading rooms, a cinema room to relax watching a movie or many terraces where you can enjoy incredible views with a refreshing cocktail and the best-ever, Iberian cuisine. Here, nothing will prevent you from enjoying life and being happy!
